

SPOT THE REFUGEE

There he is. Fourth row, second from the left. The one with the moustache. Obvious really.

Maybe not. The unsavory-looking character you're looking at is more likely to be your average neighborhood slob with a grubby vest and a weekend's stubble on his chin.

And the real refugee could just as easily be the clean-cut fellow on his left.

You see, refugees are just like you and me.

Except for one thing.

They have been forced to leave their country because of persecution or war. Everything they once had has been left behind. Home, family, possessions, all gone.

They have nothing left but their courage, and with it the hope of once more being contributing members of society. It's all they will ever have unless we help.

We know you can't give them back the things that others have taken away.

But we are asking you to keep an open mind. And a smile of welcome.

It may not seem like much. But to a refugee it can mean everything.

UNHCR is a humanitarian organization funded by voluntary contributions. During its lifetime, the agency has helped more than 50 million people restart their lives.

If you want to support the efforts of UNHCR, log into www.unhcr.org or our local site www.unhcr.org.au

